

DADDY

There are so many things dad
That I don't want you to know
Some part of me is too dark yeah
Too dark for me to show
That you're wrong to be so proud of me
Of your girl pure like snow
I am not your baby anymore
And I will continue to grow

I will take you for a while
You'll see me
Forever by your side you'll see

What I want you to ignore dad
Is the number of men
How many times I gave up yeah
All my will in their bed
My daddy you can be reassured
I loved each one of them
At least I believed it every time
After all it's not your life but mine

I will take you for a while
You'll see me
Forever by your side you'll see

I will take you for a while
You'll see me
Forever by your side Daddy
